

ATTACHMENT 2

Health Professional Shortage Area-eligible procedure codes

Wisconsin Medicaid provides enhanced reimbursement for selected procedures to primary care providers and emergency medicine providers who either provide care within areas designated by the federal Health Resources and Services Administration as a Health Professional Shortage Area (HPSA) or who provide care for recipients who reside in these areas. This list updates the information contained in the Medicine and Surgery section of the Physician Services Handbook.

Health Professional Shortage Area-eligible procedure codes
Category	Procedure code(s)
Evaluation and Management Services*
New Patient	99201, 99202, 99203, 99204, 99205
Established Patient	99211, 99212, 99213, 99214, 99215
Emergency Department	99281, 99282, 99283, 99284, 99285
Preventive Medicine	94772, 96110, 99386, 99387, 99396, 99397, 99431, 99432, 99433, 99435
Obstetric Care	59020, 59025, 59050, 59300, 59400, 59409, 59410, 59412, 59414, 59425, 59426, 59430, 59510, 59514, 59515, 59525, 59610, 59612, 59614, 59618, 59620, 59622, 59812, 59820, 59821, 59830, 76805, 76810, 76815, 76818, 76819, 76825, 76826, 76827, 76828, 76830  99204 + modifier "TH" (for initial antepartum care visit) 99213 + modifier "TH" (for two to three antepartum care visits, after initial visit)
Vaccines	90701, 90702, 90704, 90705, 90706, 90707, 90708, 90712, 90744

*Providers should not submit claims with both a HPSA modifier and the "TJ" (program group, child and/or adolescent) modifier for procedure codes 99201-99215 and 99281-99285. Providers should use only a HPSA modifier, when applicable. Wisconsin Medicaid will determine the recipient's age and determine the proper HPSA reimbursement for these procedure codes.

**Providers are required to use modifier "TH" with procedure codes 99204 and 99213 only when those codes are used to indicate the first three antepartum care visits. Providers are required to use both the "TH" modifier and either HPSA modifier when these prenatal services are HPSA eligible for appropriate reimbursement.

Health Professional Shortage Area modifiers*
Modifier	Description
QB	Physician providing service in a rural HPSA
QU	Physician providing service in an urban HPSA

*Wisconsin Medicaid does not specifically define HPSAs as urban or rural. Use of either modifier is acceptable and will result in identical incentive payment. Providers should use the modifier that best fits their circumstances. While the modifiers are defined for physicians only, any Medicaid HPSA-eligible provider may use them with the procedure codes listed above.